Claims 1 - 12 stand withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 13, 16, and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Suda (JP 2000-062,335). Suda teaches a mounting section (11), a processing section (12), an activation light irradiation section (15), a heat section (17), an ink and dampening section (16), and a printing section (13). The recitation of heating "during" the light irradiation does not differentiate the claimed structure from that of Suda. With respect to the recited temperature of the plate note paragraphs [0043] and [0047] of Suda.

Claims 14, 15, 19, 21, and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Suda in view of Nakayama et al. (US 6,048,654). Suda does not appear to disclose the particular structure of the heating means and the activation light irradiation section. With respect to claims 14 and 15 Nakayama et al. teach a heating means for a printing plate having photo catalyst power comprising irradiating light or electric heating (thermal head). See column 6 lines 48 - 56 of Nakayama et al., for example. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide the apparatus of Suda with the heating means disclosed by Nakayama et al. as conventional structure for heating a printing plate having photo catalyst power. With respect to claims 19, 21, and 22 Nakayama et al. teach a light irradiation section comprising a mercury lamp or helium cadmium laser. See column 6 lines 17 - 33 of Nakayama et al., for example. With respect to claim 21 the laser beam driving section would be inherent so as to operate the laser of Nakayama et al. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide the apparatus of Suda with the light irradiation section of Nakayama et al. as conventional structure for irradiating a printing plate having photo catalyst power.

Claims 17, 18, and 23 - 25 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowability: The total recited combination including, in particular, a heating means inside the plate cylinder as recited in claim 17 could not be found in, nor properly rendered obvious by, the prior art of record. Additionally, the total recited combination including, in particular, a hydrophobic processing section having an electric heater and temperature controller as recited in claim 18 could not be found in, nor properly rendered obvious by, the prior art of record.

Applicant's arguments filed May 13, 2003 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant's argument that claim 13 requires heating "during" irradiation is not persuasive because such a limitation does not distinguish the claimed structure from that disclosed by Suda. Furthermore, the recited temperature is disclosed by Suda in paragraphs [0043] and [0047].

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
